HOLLAND HILL CEMETERY

Route 109 North

Since so many graves have been added since the original work for the cemetery book published in 1988, it seems simplest just to reprint the entire section, since some row numbers have changed from the original as more graves have been added. There have been no additional burials in the Freese Cemetery, but a few additions to previously documented burials are noted below.

Rows are numbered from left to right. Since the lot where the cemetery is situated is somewhat pie-shaped, some rows do not continue all the way to both ends. Footstones are laid flat to the ground unless otherwise noted.

Horses
Their hoofbeats can be heard round & round,
Their cry of the wild is an eerie sound.
Their ears carried back, their teeth are baring,
Their eyes of evil, their nostrils flaring...
They are called the spirit of the West...
Which I think suits them best.
Running on the wind like flowing ghosts...
They are the animals I like the most.

Margaret W. Moulton

Inscription read that she was the widow of MOSES MOULTON, not the wife

The stone marking the grave of ISRAEL GILMAN has been re-erected.

For Catherine Cox, inscription should read CATHARINE COX

Verse with missing words added reads as follows:

We deem these blest that thou hast past
The portals of that bourne that bounds our sight
Hast gained the shore where pain no more can blast
Thy faded joys of death with withering blast
Cloud thy unchanging day, or o'er thee cast
One shade of night.

ALBERT ISRAEL GILMAN inscription should read "son of Caleb M. & Catharine C. Gilman.

Stones of Mrs. Anna Ambrose Morse and Dr. Caleb Morse have been re-erected. Word at end of first line of verse concerning Dr. Caleb Morse has flaked off and cannot be read.

Following Deborah Cox, a previously existing gravestone was not noted, perhaps due to difficulty in deciphering the inscription. Partial inscription as follows:

Addition and corrections

The monuments in the cemetery have been cleaned since in the original cemetery book was published, so along with updates for recent burials I have included some corrections to the earlier book. I have inserted the additional burials in the existing listing of burials as nearly as possible.

Verse on stone belonging to LAVINIA ADELIA ADAMS

“In her life was seen the lovely qualities of a pure heart and at her death was witnessed a triumphant manifestation of the sustaining power and Grace of God. For years to come this place will be a sacred resort to her many friends, and while they drop the tear of affection over the form that is quietly sleeping here, memory will bring up before them her many virtues and happy death.”

SICA, daughter of NATHANIEL & ELIZABETH WATSON, died
Feb. 16, 1823, aged 19 years 11 mos. 29 days

Note: This is an unusual name, however the letters SICA appear centered on the stone and there is no evidence of the surface having been flaked away, so this must be what the carver of the monument intended.

Inscription on monument of MARY MASON:

Yea though I walk through the Valley of the shadow of death
I will fear no evil for thou art
With me; thy rod and thy staff
They comfort me. Psalm 23:4

Inscription on stone of LEMUEL B. MASON:

“He served through the Revolutionary war and one year in the War of 1812.
He was in the battles of Trenton,
Princeton, Monmouth, and at the sur render of Burgoyne; and many other lesser battles and skirmishes with Indian scouts. He was Lieutenant in the Revolutionary and Captain in the War of 1812. He served his coun try faithfully in his early life, and his God as faithfully in his decli ning years.”
